

The Days of Remembrance

14 April - 22 April

The Holocaust and the
New Century
The Imperative to Remember

Jewish students being humiliated before their classmates

November 9, 1938:

Kristallnacht, The night of broken glass, destroys 7,000 Jewish businesses, sets fire to 900 synagogues, deports 30,000 Jewish men to concentration camps, and kills 91 Jews.

How many people died?

Over 5,860,000 Jewish victims

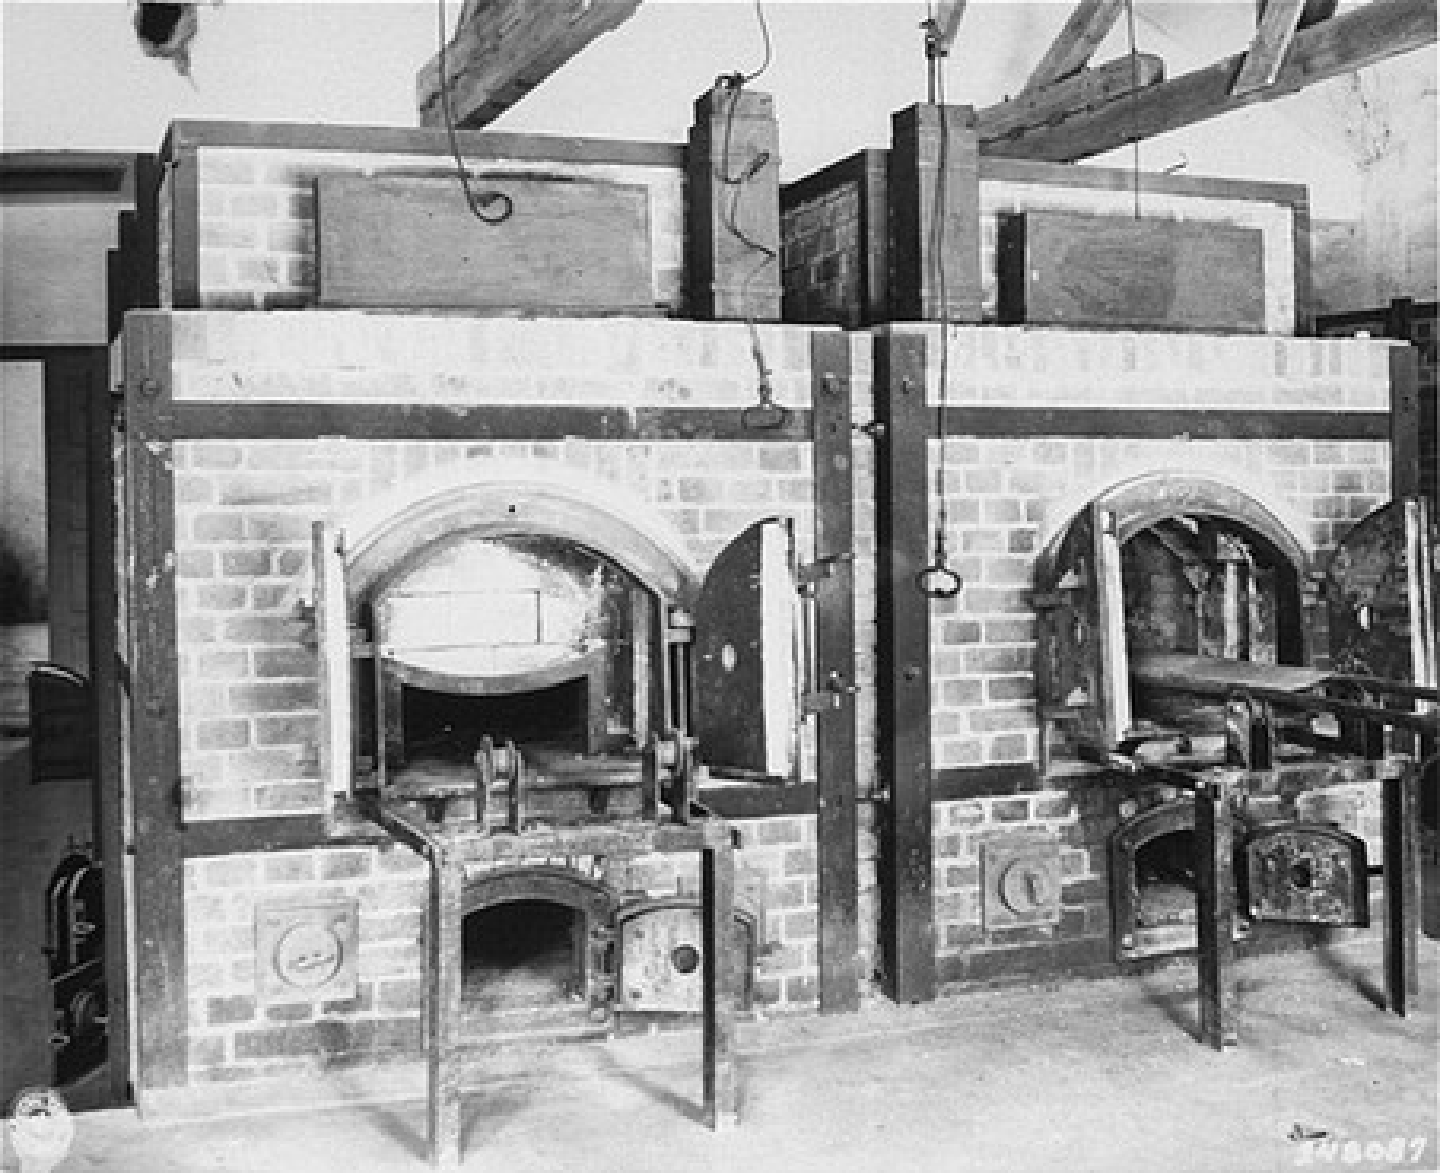

Another 5,000,000 non-Jewish

Gypsies
intelligentsia
Resistance fighters
Homosexuals
Witnesses

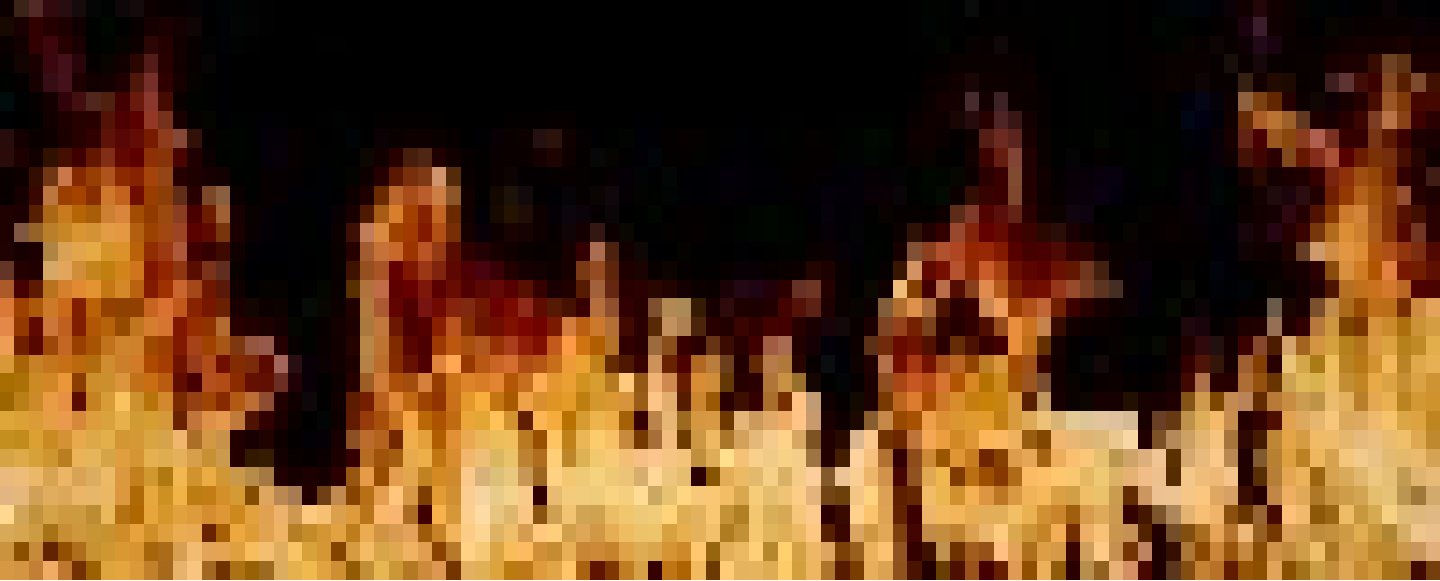

Polish
Serbs
Jehovah's

Habitual criminals

Beggars &

Two ovens inside the crematorium at the Dachau concentration camp.

Badges of Hate

Reinhard Heydrich recommended that the Jews be forced to wear badges following the Kristallnacht pogrom in November 1938. The German government first introduced mandatory badges in Poland in November 1939. Jews who failed to wear them risked death. On July 26, 1941, the Judenrat (Jewish Community Council) of Bia_ystak announced that "the authorities have warned that severe punishment--up to, and including death by shooting--is in store for Jews who do not wear the yellow badge on back and front."

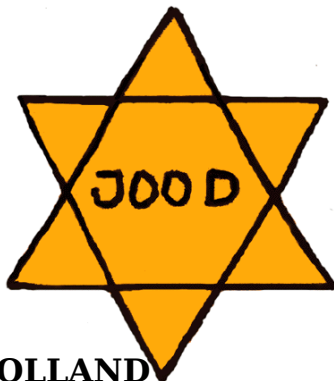

These measures culminated in the "Final Solution":

- 1) Mass murder in various localities under German control
- 2) Deportation of all remaining Jews to concentration and extermination camps
- 3) Death in gas chambers built especially for the Jews.

FRANCE

Yellow Star of David outlined in black. The French word for "Jew" is written in Hebrew style.

HOLLAND

Yellow Star of David outlined in black. The Dutch word for "Jew" is written in Hebrew style.

BELGIUM

Yellow Star of David outlined in black. The Hebrew letter is an abbreviation of the word "Jew".

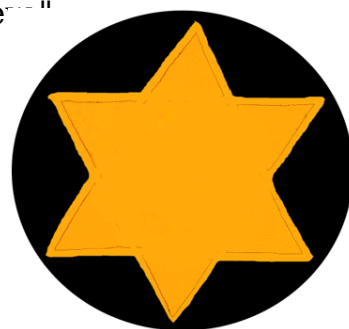

GERMANY, ALSACE, BOHEMIA- MORAVIA

Yellow Star of David outlined in black. The

PART OF SLOVAKIA

Gold Star of David outlined in blue with an abbreviation of the

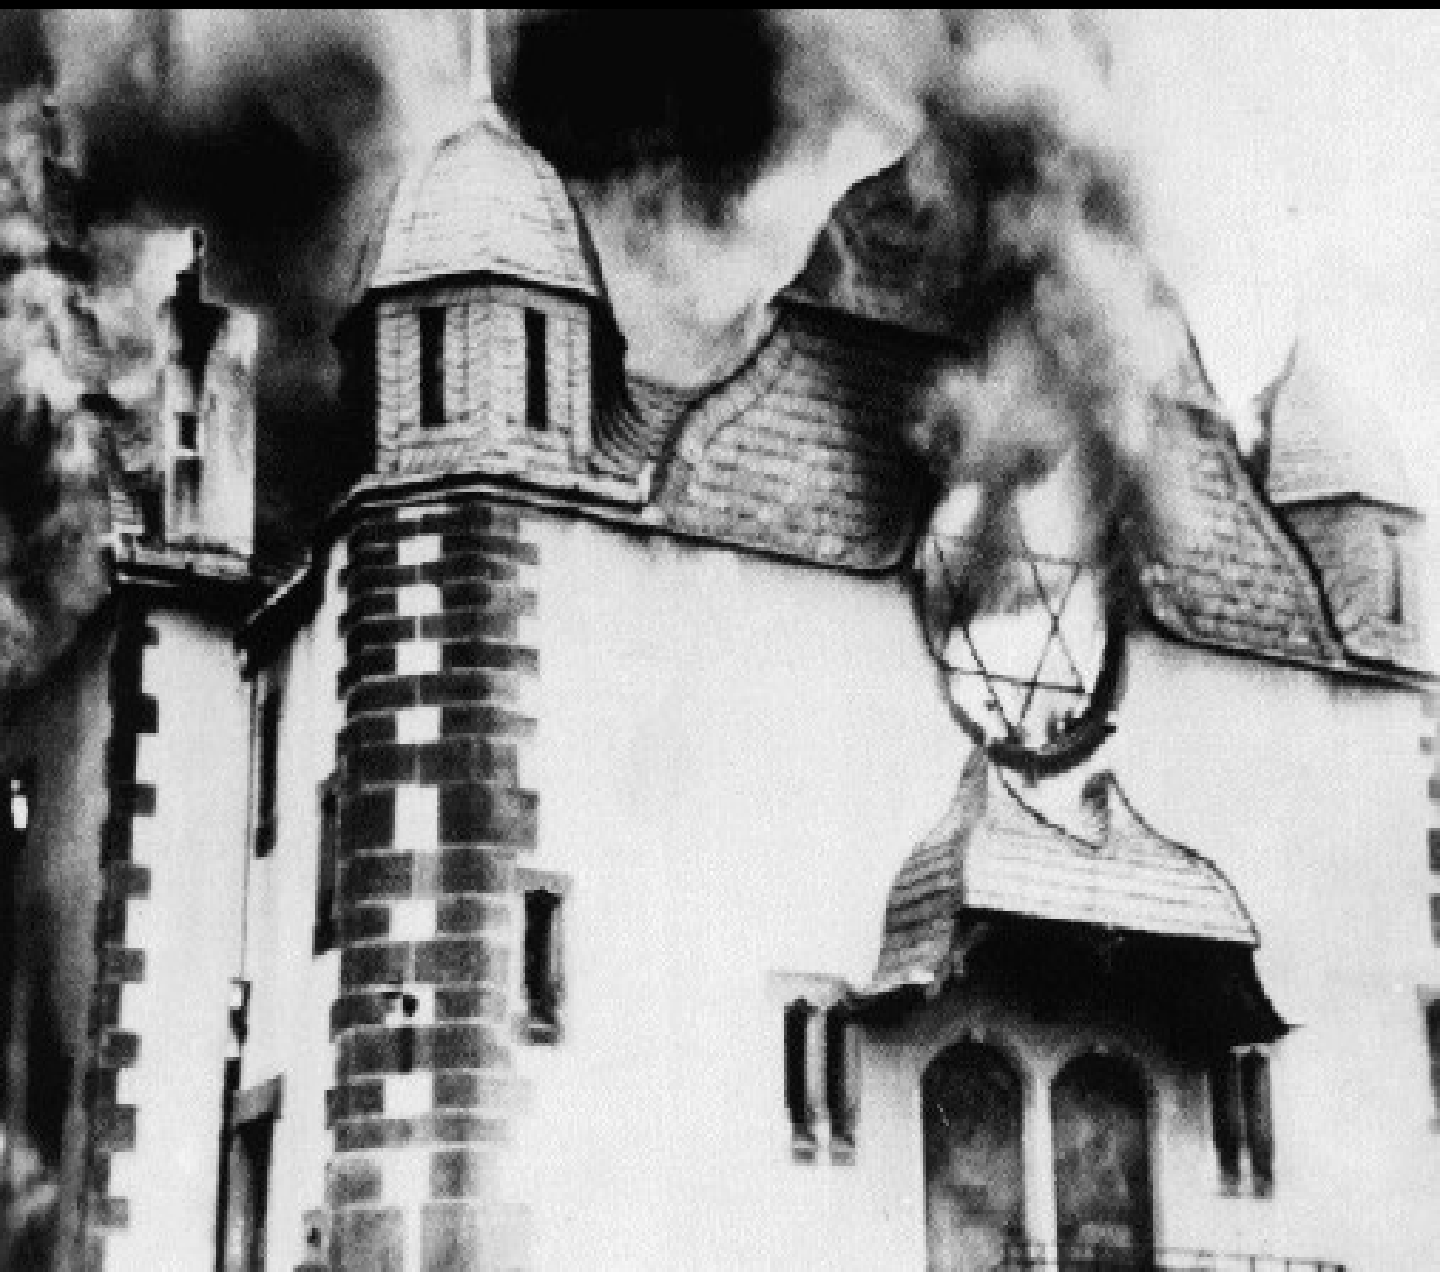

ROMANIA

Yellow Star of David on a black background.

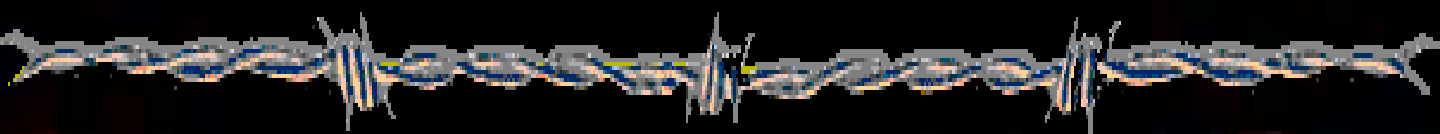

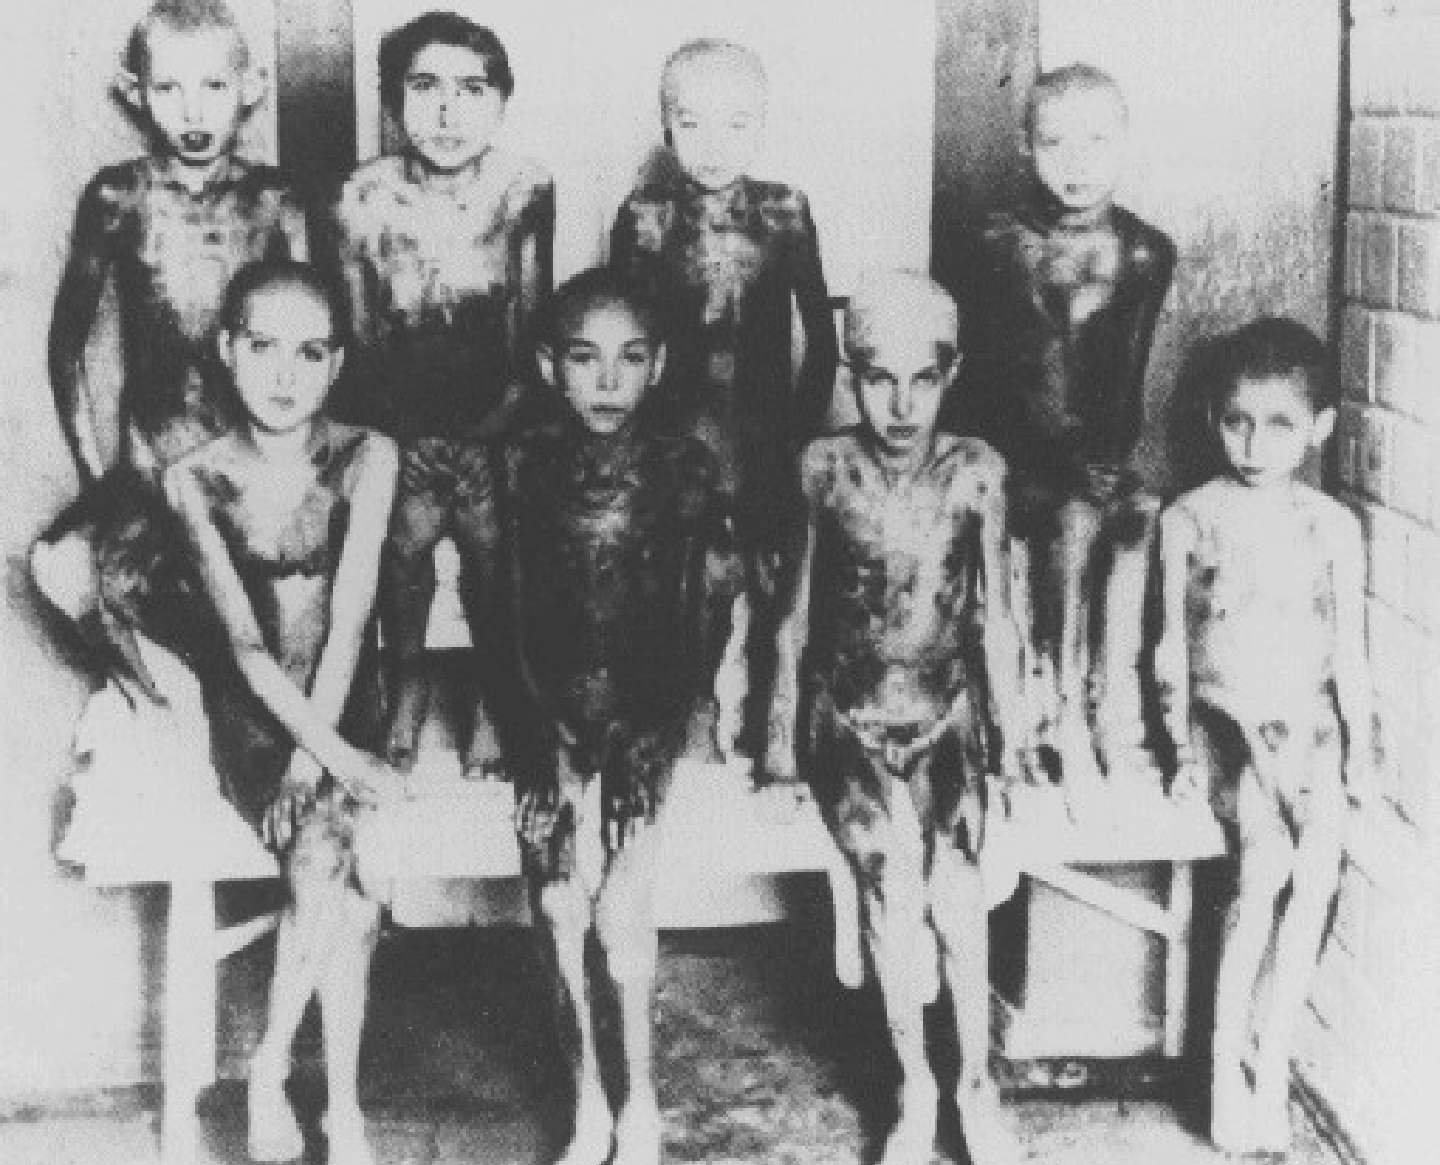

11 Million Reasons To Remember The Holocaust

A synagogue in Siegen,
Germany, on November 10, 1938

Children subjected to medical experiments in Auschwitz.